Transforming lives and communities

Training and gaining employment for one of our co-workers with Wyboston Lakes Resort
Talking Together in Cambridgeshire

It’s competition time!

Last week we were very kindly given a signed copy of Ellie Sandall’s ‘Every bunny Count!’ by Mike Forrest, the Chair of Wisbech Reads. Mike suggested we could hold a competition for families living in our Talking Together reach areas of March, Chatteris, Wisbech, Huntingdon & NE Cambridge City & that the book could be used as a prize. We are writing to let you know that we have just launched the competition via a post on the Talking Together in Cambridgeshire Facebook page. We’d be grateful if you could please share the Facebook post on, so families of children aged 0-5 from the Talking Together reach areas get to see the post. For those that don’t have Facebook, we’ve included the competition details below.

This is how the competition will work:

1. Those entering the competition will need to answer the multiple choice question below about Ellie Sandall.
2. They will then need to email their answer, name, postcode & a contact number to community.literacy@cambridgeshire.gov.uk. Please note, all entries must be received by 5pm

Please click here for related links to Switch Now

1. Training and gaining employment for one of our co-workers with Wyboston Lakes Resort
3. The names of those that have sent in a correct answer will then be added to a hat. One name will be drawn from the hat at midday on Thursday 25 July.

4. The winner’s name & photograph will then be published on the Talking Together in Cambridgeshire Facebook page.

Here is the question:

At the age of five, Ellie wrote & illustrated her first book. It was about:

1. A cow that liked to play hide & seek
2. A bird that sits on its own in a tree
3. A teddy bear that got lost at a market

Please note, this competition is only open to families of children aged 0-5 living in the Talking Together in Cambridgeshire reach areas. If you are not sure whether you live within one of our reach areas then please do take a look at our maps on at https://www.cambslearntogether.co.uk/early-years/community-literacy-project/.

Kind regards,

Helen

Council Tax Reduction Consultation

Would you please send an email out to the Financial Capability Group inviting them to comment on our consultation for Council Tax Reduction from April 2020 for working age claimants who are on Universal Credit (UC).

Under the new proposals for the Council Tax Reduction Scheme, people working and claiming Universal Credit would be allocated one of a number of different bands, based on their income which will determine how much Council Tax they will have to pay. The amount of reduction in their Council Tax would not change as long as their earnings remained in that band. There also proposals for fixed non-dependant deductions for other adults living in a household.

The survey is here: https://www.cambridge.gov.uk/consultations

The proposals will not affect pensioners or working age people who are not on UC.

Thank you very much.

Naomi
